Preface to the Third Edition

Fundamentals of English Grammar is a developmental skills text for lower-intermediate and intermediate students of English as a second or foreign language. It combines clear and understandable grammar information with a variety of exercises and activities.

Fundamentals of English Grammar is the second in a series of three texts: Basic English Grammar (red cover), Fundamentals of English Grammar (black cover), and Understanding and Using English Grammar (blue cover).

The principal aims of all three texts in this series are to present clear, cogent information about English grammar and usage, to provide extensive and varied practice that encourages growth in all areas of language use, and to be interesting, useful, and fun for student and teacher alike. The approach is eclectic, with the texts seeking to balance form-focused language-learning activities with abundant opportunities for engaged and purposeful communicative interaction.

The new editions of the texts in the Azar Grammar Series include these changes:

- The communicative aspects are more fully developed and explicit in the third editions. This edition of Fundamentals of English Grammar includes a greatly increased number of “real communication” opportunities for the teacher to exploit. The text often uses the students’ own life experiences as context and regularly introduces topics of interest to stimulate the free expression of ideas in structured as well as open discussions.

The Azar Grammar Series texts support the view of many experienced teachers that grammar-based and communicative approaches are not mutually exclusive, but rather mutually supportive, and can advantageously co-exist in the same language program, even in the same class, even in the same lesson.

- Similarly, the interactive aspects of the texts receive greater emphasis in the third editions. Many of the exercises formerly designated ORAL or ORAL (BOOKS CLOSED) are now reformatted to be more clearly available for pair work or group work, in addition to still being viable as class work led by a teacher. This edition of Fundamentals of English Grammar encourages interactivity but leaves it open for the users to decide what degree of interactivity best suits their needs.
- There is now an even wider variety of exercise types. This edition has a much larger number of free-response exercises and open-ended communicative tasks, while still providing ample controlled-response exercises to aid initial understanding of the form, meaning, and usage of the target structures. It also includes more writing topics, more speaking activities, new error-analysis exercises in every chapter, and additional extended-context exercises. Classroom teaching materials formerly found in the Workbook are now included in this student text, with the Workbook devoted solely to self-study exercises. The Workbook has a variety of practice approaches for independent study.

- A specific change in this edition of Fundamentals of English Grammar is the two Appendices, one with phrasal verbs and one with preposition combinations. Rather than asking students to study a whole chapter of these phrases at one time, the text uses appendices to present them in smaller groupings for teachers to intersperse throughout the teaching term. Another specific change is the omission of conditional sentences, which are presented in Understanding and Using English Grammar.
- The accompanying Teacher's Guide is written for both experienced and inexperienced teachers. It contains amplified grammar notes the teacher might want to present to the class or will find useful as background information. It outlines various ways of approaching the materials in the classroom and frequently suggests fresh teaching ideas for individual exercises beyond the directions in the text. It seeks to share with the teacher an understanding of the rationale behind the text's content and approaches. Its principal purpose is to make the busy teacher's job easier.

Fundamentals of English Grammar consists of

- a Student Book without an answer key
- a Student Book with an answer key
- a Workbook, consisting of self-study exercises for independent work
- a Chartbook, a reference book consisting of only the grammar charts
- a Teacher's Guide, with teaching suggestions and additional notes on grammar, as well as the answers to the exercises
- a Test Bank

Acknowledgments

The third edition of FEG was reviewed by nine ESL/EFL professionals. I wish to express my thanks to these colleagues for their exceedingly helpful insights and suggestions. They are Stephanie La Qua, International Center for American English; Diane Mahin, University of Miami; Amy Parker, Embassy CES Intensive English Program; Gary Pietsch, Green River Community College; Thomas Pinkerton, North Miami Senior High School; Haydée Alvarado Santos, University of Puerto Rico; Hye-Young Um, Myongji University, Seoul, Korea; Lyn Waldie, Hellenic-American Union, Athens, Greece; Aida Zic, Montgomery College.

My wholehearted thanks go to Shelley Hartle, who makes my job easy, and Editor Janet Johnston, who guides and assists us in so very many ways. Editor Margo Grant is simply super to work with, as are the many other skilled professionals at Pearson Education for their contributions to the publication of this work; in particular, Joanne Dresner, Anne Boynton-Trigg, Allen Ascher, Pam Fishman, Rhea Banker, Linda Moser, Aliza Greenblatt, Ray Keating, Barry Katzen, Kate McLoughlin, Sylvia Herrera-Alaniz, Bruno Paul, Hugo Loyola, Mike Bennett, Stacy Whittis, Monika Popowicz, Julie Hammond, and Amy Durfy.

A special thank you is reserved for Production Editor Robert Ruvo, who stayed on top of everything and remained unflappable.

I'd like to thank Carlisle Communications, Ltd., whose staff so excellently turned our disks into print pages. Without a doubt, they are the most skilled and reliable compositors I've worked with in twenty years.

I also once again thank Don Martinetti, the illustrator, whose touches of whimsy are so delightful. My appreciation also goes to graphic designer Christine Shrader, creator of the swallow that heralds this third edition.

My great appreciation goes to Stacy Hagen, an experienced ESL author,* who created new materials for the revised Fundamentals of English Grammar Workbook, bringing fresh approaches and ideas. Working with her was a very good experience.

I wish to express special acknowledgment of the contributing writers for the previous edition of the Workbook: Rachel Spack Koch, Susan Jamieson, Barbara Andrews, and Jeanie Francis. Some of the exercise material originally created for that workbook has been woven into this third edition of the student book, and I thank them for the ways in which this material has enriched the text. I am additionally very grateful to Rachel Spack Koch for her devotion and expertise in answering grammar and usage questions from teachers on the current Azar Companion Web Site.

Sound Advice: A Basis for Listening*, 2000, Pearson Education; Better Writing through Editing, 1999, McGraw-Hill (co-author Jan Peterson); and Sound Advantage: A Pronunciation Book, 1992, Pearson Education (co-author Pat Grogan).

I am indebted especially and always to my many students through the years; I learned so much from them. I also am indebted to my fellow ESL/EFL materials writers, past and present; we learn much from each other. I would like to make special mention of Thomas Crowell and Irene Schoenberg.

In addition, my thanks go to Donna Cowan, University of Washington, Patti Gullede-White, Sue Van Etten, Joy Edwards, my great girls Chelsea and Rachel, and my wonderfully supportive husband, Larry Harris.

MARIA: Three days.

KUNIO: Why did you come here?

MARIA: To study English at this school before I go to another school to study computer programming. How about you?

Choose one:

2. Write a fable that you are familiar with, perhaps one that is well known in your culture.

3. Write a story with your classmates. Each student writes one or two sentences at a time. One student begins the story. Then he or she passes the paper on to another student, who then writes a sentence or two and passes the paper on—until everyone in the class has had a chance to write part of the story, or until the story has an ending. This story can then be reproduced for the class to revise and correct together. The class may want to “publish” the final product on the Internet or in a small booklet.

2-10 EXPRESSING PAST TIME: USING TIME CLAUSES

(a) time clause After I finished my work, main clause I went to bed. (b) main clause I went to bed time clause after I finished my work.	After I finished my work = a time clause* I went to bed = a main clause* (a) and (b) have the same meaning. A time clause can (1) come in front of a main clause, as in (a). (2) follow a main clause, as in (b).
(c) I went to bed after I finished my work. (d) Before I went to bed, I finished my work. (e) I stayed up until I finished my work. (f) As soon as I finished my work, I went to bed. (g) The phone rang while I was watching TV. (h) When the phone rang, I was watching TV.	These words introduce time clauses: after before until as soon as while when } + subject and verb = a time clause In (e): until = “to that time and then no longer” In (f): as soon as = “immediately after” PUNCTUATION: Put a comma at the end of a time clause when the time clause comes first in a sentence (comes in front of the main clause): time clause + comma + main clause main clause + NO comma + time clause
(i) When the phone rang, I answered it. (j) While I was doing my homework, my roommate was watching TV.	In a sentence with a time clause introduced by when, both the time clause verb and the main verb can be simple past. In this case, the action in the when-clause happened first. In (i): First: The phone rang. Then: I answered it. In (j): When two actions are in progress at the same time, the past progressive can be used in both parts of the sentence.

*A clause is a structure that has a subject and a verb.

Until can also be used to say that something does NOT happen before a particular time: I didn't go to bed until I finished my work.

(e) I'm going to stay home this evening. (f) I'm staying home this evening. (g) Ann is going to fly to Chicago next week. (h) Ann is flying to Chicago next week.	The present progressive can be used to express future time. Each pair of example sentences has the same meaning. The present progressive describes definite plans for the future, plans that were made before the moment of speaking. A future meaning for the present progressive is indicated either by future time words (e.g., tomorrow) or by the situation.*
(i) You're going to laugh when you hear this joke. (j) INCORRECT: You're laughing when you hear this joke.	The present progressive is NOT used for predictions about the future. His grades are getting worse, but he won't do any homework. Sometimes he skips school without permission, and then he writes an excuse for the school and signs his mother's name.

His older sister, Kathy, is a good student and never causes any problems at home. Mark's parents keep asking him why he can't be more like Kathy. Kathy makes fun of Mark's school grades and tells him he's stupid.

All Mark does when he's home is stay in his room and listen to very loud music. Sometimes he doesn't even come downstairs to eat meals with his family. He argues with his parents whenever they ask him to do chores around the house, like taking out the trash.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill can't stay calm when they talk to him. Mrs. Hill is always yelling at her son. She nags him constantly to do his chores, clean up his room, finish his homework, stand up straight, get a haircut, wash his face, and tie his shoes. Mr. Hill is always making new rules. Some of the rules are unreasonable. For instance, one rule Mr. Hill made was that his son could not listen to music after five o'clock. Mark often becomes angry and goes up to his room and slams the door shut.

A person's body is about sixty-seven percent water. A bird is about seventy-five percent water. Most fruit is about ninety percent water.
- (3) Most of the water in the world is saltwater. Ninety-seven percent of the water on earth is in the oceans because seawater is salty. People cannot drink it or use it to grow plants for food. Only three percent of the earth's water is fresh. Only one percent of the water in the world is easily available for human use.
- (4) Even though water is essential to life, human beings often poison it with chemicals from industry and agriculture. When people foul water with pollution, the quality of all life—plant life, animal life, and human life—diminishes. Life cannot exist without fresh water, so it is essential for people to take care of this important natural resource.

SINGULAR COUNT NOUNS	(a) A dog makes a good pet. (b) A banana is yellow. (c) A pencil contains lead.	A speaker uses a with a singular count noun when s/he is making a generalization. In (a): The speaker is talking about any dog, all dogs, dogs in general.	(j) I saw a dog in my yard. (k) Mary ate a banana . (l) I need a pencil .
PLURAL COUNT NOUNS	(d) \emptyset Dogs make good pets. (e) \emptyset Bananas are yellow. (f) \emptyset Pencils contain lead.	A speaker uses no article (\emptyset) with a plural count noun when s/he is making a generalization.* In (d): The speaker is talking about any dog, all dogs, dogs in general. Note: (a) and (d) have the same meaning.	(m) I saw some dogs in my yard. (n) Mary bought some bananas . (o) Bob has some pencils in his pocket.
NONCOUNT NOUNS	(g) \emptyset Fruit is good for you. (h) \emptyset Coffee contains caffeine. (i) I like \emptyset music . 6. Hiroki is from Japan. When he was sixteen, he spent four months in South America. He stayed with a family who lived near Quito, Ecuador. Their way of life was very different from his. At first, many of the things they did and said seemed strange to Hiroki: their eating customs, political views, ways of expressing emotion, work habits, sense of humor, and more. He felt homesick for people who were like him in their customs and habits.

As time went on, Hiroki began to appreciate the way of life that his host family followed. Many of the things he did with his host family began to feel natural to him. He developed a strong bond of friendship with them. At the beginning of his stay in Ecuador, he had noticed only the things that were different between his host family and himself. At the end, he appreciated the many things they had in common as human beings despite their differences in cultural background.

7. Many of the problems that exist today have existed since the beginning of recorded history. One of these problems is violent conflict between people who come from different geographical areas or cultural backgrounds. These irrational fears are the source of much of the violence that has occurred throughout the history of the world.

□ EXERCISE 25. Review: adjective clauses. (Chapter 12)

Directions: Underline the adjective clauses in the following passage. Circle the noun that each adjective clause modifies. Work in pairs or groups.

There are ten adjective clauses in the passage (including the one in the first sentence). Can your team find all of them?

(1) Parents are people who provide love, care, and education for children. Parents may be defined as the principal people who raise a child. These people may or may not have physically produced the child. Many children are brought up by relatives or other caring adults when their biological parents, through death, disability, or uncontrollable circumstances, are not present to care for them. The role of any parents, biological or not, is to take care of their children's emotional, physical, and social needs.

(2) Children need love and affection to grow strong emotionally. It is important for all children to have at least one adult with whom they can form a loving, trusting relationship. A strong bond with adults is essential from birth through adolescence. For example, babies who are not picked up frequently and held lovingly may have slow physical and mental growth even though they receive adequate food and exercise. Youngsters who are raised in an institution without bonding with an older person who functions as a parent often have difficulty forming trusting relationships when they are adults.

(3) In addition to love, children need physical care. Babies are completely dependent upon adults for food, shelter, and safety. Children who are denied such basics in their early lives may suffer chronic health problems and feelings of insecurity throughout their lifetimes. One of the greatest responsibilities that parents have is to provide for the physical well-being of their children.

(4) Children's education is also the responsibility of the parents. Girls and boys must learn to speak, dress themselves, eat properly, and get along with others. They must learn not to touch fire, to look carefully before they cross the street, and not to use violence to solve problems. The lessons that parents teach their children are numerous. As children get older and enter school, teachers join parents in providing the education that young people need in order to become independent, productive members of society.

14-8 QUOTED SPEECH

Sometimes we want to quote a speaker's words—to write a speaker's exact words. Exact quotations are used in many kinds of writing, such as newspaper articles, stories and novels, and academic papers. When we quote a speaker's words, we use quotation marks.

(a) SPEAKERS' EXACT WORDS

Jane: Cats are fun to watch.
Mike: Yes, I agree. They're graceful and playful.
Do you own a cat?

(b) QUOTING THE SPEAKERS' WORDS

Jane said, "Cats are fun to watch."
Mike said, "Yes, I agree. They're graceful and playful. Do you own a cat?"

(c) HOW TO WRITE QUOTATIONS

- | | | |
|---|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1. Add a comma after said .* | → | Jane said, |
| 2. Add quotation marks. | → | Jane said, " |
| 3. Capitalize the first word of the quotation. | → | Jane said, "Cats |
| 4. Write the quotation. Add a final period. | → | Jane said, "Cats are fun to watch. |
| 5. Add quotation marks after the period. | → | Jane said, "Cats are fun to watch." |

(d) Mike said, "Yes, I agree. They're graceful and playful. Do you own a cat?"

(e) INCORRECT: Mike said, "Yes, I agree." "They're graceful and playful." "Do you own a cat?"

When there are two (or more) sentences in a quotation, put the quotation marks at the beginning and end of the whole quote, as in (d). Do not put quotation marks around each sentence. As with a period, put the quotation marks after a question mark at the end of a quote.

(f) "Cats are fun to watch," Jane said.

(g) "Do you own a cat?" Mike asked.

In (f): Notice that a comma (not a period) is used at the end of the quoted sentence when Jane said comes after the quote.

In (g): Notice that a question mark (not a comma) is used at the end of the quoted question.

*Other common verbs besides say that introduce questions: admit, announce, answer, ask, complain, explain, inquire, report, reply, shout, state, write.

Quotation marks are called "inverted commas" in British English.

□ EXERCISE 23. Quoted speech. (Chart 14-8)

- ANN: Is your brother a student?
- RITA: We're hungry.
- RITA: We're hungry. Are you hungry, too?

Rita said can come

- (1) at the beginning of the quote: Rita said, "I'm tired. I'm going to bed."
- (2) in the middle of the quote: "I'm tired," Rita said. "I'm going to bed."
- (3) at the end of the quote: "I'm tired. I'm going to bed," Rita said.

5. RITA: We're hungry. Are you hungry too? Let's eat.

He said of course I do. I've been using sign language with my parents since I was a baby. It's a beautiful and expressive language. I often prefer it to spoken language.

A deaf student is going to visit our class next Monday. Could you interpret for her I asked.

"Technology brings into the classroom new capabilities and possibilities in a child's learning environment. However, the most important factor in whether an educational setting is effective for a child is the teacher. The second most critical factor in a child's educational success is the child's home. Technology is far down the list of things that really make a difference, but it can make a difference."
